Walier Chevrolet Celebrates 40 Years

"The wife and I purchased a brand new Sonic for her and went back several weeks later and bought me a brand new Colorado," says customer Stuart Clough. "Their service is outstanding. I have been coming to Walier's for so long, they are more like friends than car dealers! They are fantastic people."

Walier and his son, Chad (who grew up in the business), work hand-in-hand with all departments to ensure that whoever walks through the door – whether looking for a new car or needing a vehicle serviced – has a positive experience.

"I've been buying from Walier forever and wouldn't think of doing business with anyone else," adds another satisfied customer, Ruth Abbott.

Customers will encounter personalized service at its best from friendly and knowledgeable salespeople who are sensible, pressure free, and honest. This trained sales staff will help in every step of the way during a customer's shopping experience at Walier Chevrolet. And, if not finding exactly what the customer is looking for, they take great care in making sure to find that perfect match.

Pat Steed has purchased four vehicles from Walier Chevrolet. "This is my third Impala and my husband purchased a gently used Toyota Tundra," she says. "We have loved all the vehicles. The staff is super; they go over and above what is expected each and every time. I know I'll enjoy this vehicle as much as the others."

"We have a great product and hard-working employees," says Joe, about Walier Chevrolet's "staying power" over the last four decades.

Walier Chevrolet offers a full-line Chevy experience – from the electric Bolt EV (named Motor Trend's 2017 "Car of the Year") and the full-size Impala to the Equinox compact SUV and the full-size Silverado truck. People are welcome to stop by to check out the inventory, but if short on time, visit their comprehensive website (www.walierchevy.com) to shop around for a new or used car, use a payment estimator to determine monthly costs, decide if buying or leasing is best for their situation, get pre-qualified, get a value on a trade-in, or check out specials that are presently being offered.

The respected Chevrolet name, coupled with a dealership such as Walier Chevrolet that employs a trained service staff, is what makes this local state-of-the-art service center stand out from the rest. Walier Chevrolet has already made a name for itself as being the place to buy or service a vehicle. Now, with all the advances in technology, there is more information available for the customer as well as the service staff to be able to make an informed decision – which means less cost to the customer. The service team at Walier Chevrolet is trained by General Motors to be GM experts; they use all of the updated technology that is available as well as genuine GM parts.

This GM Certified Service department has the expertise to perform a wide range of GM services: from routine maintenance to critical repairs, they take the stress out of servicing the customer's vehicle. This service department though isn't just about GM products, as they service all brands.

And, if waiting while a vehicle is being serviced, the comfortable guest waiting lounge and children's play area offers Wi-Fi access, flat screen TVs, and complimentary beverages.

This dealership is not only noted for its friendly atmosphere and customer service, but for its community endeavors and sponsorships. "We strongly believe in giving back to the community," says Chad. "We are so fortunate to live in a community where there are so many great people who give."

The sales department at Walier Chevrolet is open Mondays through Fridays from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The service department is open Mondays through Fridays from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Colonial Theatre Announces 2017-2018 Season

Musical genres of all styles will be represented with Get the Led Out (September 9th) and their passion for the music of Led Zeppelin; perennial classic-rock favorite, America (November 10th); the king and queen of banjo, Bela Fleck and Abigail Washburn (November 18th); Grammy-winning instrumental artist Chris Botti (December 1st); silver-voiced tenor Ronan Tynan with a special holiday concert (December 16th); and the fierce fiddling duo, Natalie MacMaster and Donnell Leahy (February 16th).

Theatre goers of all ages will enjoy the comedy stylings of Juston McKinney (October 21st); the acclaimed performances of Japanese Taiko drumming by Yamato – The Drummers of Japan (January 20th) and the extraordinarily realistic dinosaur puppets of Erth's Dinosaur Zoo Live (March 15th). Family-friendly dance, music, and movement performances take center stage with the jugglers, acrobats, aerialists, and clowns of Nimble Arts Cirque: Flip, Fly Fun (October 15th); the cherished holiday classic presented by New York Theatre Ballet, The Nutcracker (December 9th); and the internationally successful Irish Dance show, Rhythm of the Dance (March 31st).

The Colonial Theatre will once again partner with The Metropolitan Opera to present the Met Live in HD's 2017-2018 season. Broadcast in high definition on the largest screen in the Monadnock Region, Met Live performances offer awe-inspiring singing and orchestration, lavish costumes, and spectacular scenery.

In addition, five productions will be presented for local students as a part of The Colonial's Student Matinee Series, which serves as a key part of The Colonial's vision to excite, educate, and challenge audiences of all ages. Serving more than 8000 students each year, this educational outreach program introduces children to live theatre while tying into curriculum-based topics such as literature, music, social studies, science, and math.

Like most non-profit organizations, The Colonial Theatre relies on donations for part (40 percent) of its operating budget. Now more than ever, the support of members is crucial to the continued success of The Colonial.

Tickets for the Colonial's 2017-2018 season will be available to new and renewing members from June 27th through July 10th, and to the general public on July 11th. New or renewing members or members who upgrade a full level during The Colonial's Summer Membership Drive – which is taking place now through September – will be entered to win two free tickets to every 2017-2018 Colonial main-stage performance.

EyeWorks Celebrates First Anniversary Of Ownership Transition

Four years ago, Higley joined the practice, working with, and learning from, McMahon.

Of the transition, McMahon said, "The ownership of EyeWorks couldn't be in better hands. Bart and I respect and appreciate each other. With overall health in mind, we and our staff consistently deliver high-quality eye care to maximize the eye health of our patients and help them enjoy life more. I have no plans to stop treating patients, because I love my work!"

EyeWorks offers a full range of eye care services and products beyond glasses and contact lenses, including pediatric eye care, dry eye treatment, and surgical co-management. Its patients' busy schedules are accommodated, and the doctors provide emergency eye care when needed.

Because of their commitment to excellence and the respect of other doctors in their profession, McMahon and Higley were selected to mentor and teach the next generation of optometrists from Illinois College of Optometry, New England College of Optometry, Pennsylvania College of Optometry and SUNY College of Optometry. EyeWorks was recognized as the #1 Eye Doctor/Optical Shop in the region for 10 consecutive years based on the voting of readers of The Monadnock Shopper News and as the #1 optometry practice in Greater Keene for the last 17 years by Market Surveys of America.
